

Dr. Sherry Stancil Bio

Dr. Sherry Stancil brings over 20 years of experience in college teaching to her roles as communication professor, speaker, and corporate trainer through her Learning and Development company, AlignCom. With a master's degree in communication studies and an Ed.D. in Higher Education Leadership, specializing in Instructional Technology and Design, Dr. Stancil seamlessly integrates academic theory with practical training methods. Her innovative methods have led to measurable improvements in communication skills across various organizations, demonstrating her ability to translate theory into actionable results.